

Hello Matey _____

Fall is here and it's the perfect time to get down and dirty with all the homestead tasks you need to accomplish now to prepare you for the coming winter. Tend to your garden. Do some repairs around the homestead. Start chopping them firewood! There are plenty of jobs that need to be done before November. So list down the homesteading activities according to their priority and prepare your tools and equipment.

Enjoy,
Tee Jay

Fall Homestead Activities to Prepare You for Winter

The months of September to October are the best time to prepare for winter. Summer is just too hot to get the job done. Come November, it may be too late to prepare for the cold. Start planning and prepping for your fall homestead activities now so you can hit the ground running once autumn arrives. Read More Here
